ANGRY PARENT CALLS JIMMIE NATURE FAKIR

DEMANDS COURT GIVE HAYWOOD HIS FREEDOM

Skilful Feat Makes 'Em Think
He Swallowed a Whistle.

GET TRUTH AT HOSPITAL

Little Jimmie Mooney, whose anxious parents took him to the City Hospital last night in order that a tin whistle which they said he had swallowed might be extricated, admitted to-day that he was a nature faker.

sound of a whistle coming from the depths of his interior anatomy had not been induced by the serious plight which his parents thought he was in but on the contrary had been accomplished through the skilful use of his breath, lips and teeth.

He admitted that he had not swallowed a whistle, as his parents thought. "I told 'em that to fool 'em," he said to-day. "I made a noise like a whistle. It ain't every kid that can do that."

His father and mother hurried him to the City Hospital, where, under the direction of Dr. J. H. McLaughlin, he was treated. He said that he thought it had struck in the back of his head.

His father and mother hurried him to the City Hospital, where, under the direction of Dr. J. H. McLaughlin, he was treated. He said that he thought it had struck in the back of his head.

He is eleven years old, and it is likely that his father will apply a course of treatment that will prove efficacious in relieving him of the pain. The doctor said that the treatment is a slipper. The doctor said that the treatment is a slipper. The doctor said that the treatment is a slipper.
